Attendance Policy
Version 1.0
Effective Date: 01 January 2025

1. Purpose

This Attendance Policy defines the standards for recording working hours, maintaining punctuality, and ensuring accurate attendance records. Employees are expected to comply with attendance requirements to support business continuity and team collaboration.

2. Scope

This policy applies to all permanent, probationary, and contract employees. Attendance expectations may differ for interns, consultants, and field staff based on their engagement terms.

3. Working Hours

The standard office timing is 9:30 AM to 6:30 PM, Monday to Friday, with a one-hour lunch break. Employees should be available during core business hours and notify their manager of planned absences.

4. Attendance Recording

Employees must record attendance using the approved attendance system at the beginning and end of each working day. Missing attendance entries should be reported to HR within one working day for correction.

5. Late Arrival and Early Departure

Employees arriving late or leaving early should inform their reporting manager. Repeated instances may be reviewed by HR and could affect performance evaluations if not supported by valid reasons.

6. Work From Home

Employees approved for remote work must remain available during working hours, attend scheduled meetings, and complete assigned tasks. Attendance for remote work is recorded through the same HR system.

7. Leave and Attendance

Approved leave is excluded from attendance calculations. Unapproved absences are treated as unauthorized absence until regularized according to HR procedures.

8. Responsibilities

Employees should maintain accurate attendance records and promptly report discrepancies. Managers review attendance exceptions, while HR maintains official attendance records and prepares monthly attendance reports.

9. Policy Violations

Examples include proxy attendance, falsifying attendance records, repeated unexplained absences, and misuse of attendance systems. Such violations may lead to disciplinary action.
